Houston, Texas, USA

Adriana Gil-Wilkerson is the Clinical and Training Director at the Houston Galveston Institute (HGI). She has been with HGI for 14 years, serving in many different roles that have a wide range of responsibilities. She is the coordinator of the Walk-In Counseling Program at HGI and has presented on this topic in the US and Canada. Adriana teaches bilingual therapists in practicum as an Adjunct Professor at Our Lady of the Lake University-Woodlands Campus. Adriana's research interests come from her own experiences of becoming a bilingual postmodern, collaborative therapist. She finds people's stories fascinating and she loves conversation and dialogue. Adriana lives in Houston, TX with her husband and two children.
